ANNOUNCING...
New Monograph Series FREE to APS Members

The APS is pleased to announce the publication of the first new monograph as part of our partnership with Springer. Lawrence Longo, Loma Linda University School of Medicine, has written a definitive history of an important field of physiology, that which concerns the developing fetus and newborn infant. The book, titled The Rise of Fetal and Neonatal Physiology – Basic Science to Clinical Care, addresses the contributions of physiologists and other basic scientists to clinical problems of prematurity. APS members can read the book for free online and purchase a printed copy for $40.

The APS has collaborated with Springer to digitize 33 book titles in the APS monograph series (Methods in Physiology, Physiology in Health and Disease, and Perspectives in Physiology).

Springer will be publishing more new titles that will be freely available to APS members in eBook format.

APS Members receive discounted registration to EB and APS Conferences!

The American Physiological Society usually holds one or more specialty conferences each year. In addition, APS joins with other societies to sponsor Intersociety Meetings as interest warrants. Please send an e-mail to: meetings@the-aps.org for questions on APS Conferences.
Your DAQ needs are safe in our hands

For more than four decades life scientists and researchers around the world have relied upon CED data acquisition systems. From simple chart recordings to the most complex multi-channel spike sorting – our systems do it all without compromise.

The powerful hardware and software are easy to use and offer great value for money with unrivalled customer support.

Rest assured – you’re in safe hands when you choose a CED system.
